Dearest Danny,

you will be surprised receiving this letter from me. I have to explain: this young pianist won a Chopin prize in Israel in the Rubinstein Competition. I heard him lately in a concert playing beautifully - he has a wonderful tone, extraordinary technique but before all he is a true musician. It is such a relief to let yourself go musically knowing that you are safe from empty showing off effects and that you deal with real music.

I would be very greatful if you would find time to listen to him. I am sure you will not regret it. I send you my fondest love and admiration

Your old friend
